Jeff High Trustees OK W'moor Bid

Low bid of $2,508,676 for construction of Westmoor High school by Theo. G. Meyer & Sons was accepted in a four-to-one vote of the Jefferson Union High school district board of trustees at Monday night's meeting.

Casting the lone "No" vote was Trustee Raymond Whitney, who reiterated his motion of last week that the board call in county school officials to advise on Westmoor plans. Whitney, along with other residents of the coastside area, claims that plans for Westmoor are too elaborate.

Whitney's motion again died for want of a second.

In accepting the Meyer bid, trustees voted to include alternate one, 11 additional classrooms for $180,556, and to exclude alternate four, water system, for $30,135. Base bid submitted was $2,358,255.

Trustees' action was made despite three written protests by the Westview Improvement club, Manor Village Improvement club, and the last submitted by Mrs. Vivian Schember and Donald Miller, Laguna Salada school board trustees.

The first two letters objecting to the building of Westmoor High school without first asking advice of the county were read without comment by the board.

"Backing of Many"

Miller, however, asked that he be allowed to read his and Mrs. Schember's petition aloud. He stated that although it was signed by only two persons, the request had the "backing of many others."

Approximately 20 of these "many others" were present at the meeting.

The Schember-Miller statement began by quoting letters from state and county officials published in THE RECORD last week.

Continuing, Miller read: "This district had funds available for capital outlay as of October 31st of this year $2,546,221 . . . By accepting the low bid on increment 1, plus alternate 1, less alternate 4, the district obligates itself for an outlay of $2,500,000, leaving a

Gas Station Ruling Held Up By Board

County board of supervisors Tuesday put over decision on the abandonment of a county easement at Hillside and Market streets in Colma which would permit construction of a gas station.

At request of the applicant, Rose Gioldi, owner of the land, the matter was held over until December 20, 2:30 p.m.

The supervisors also read a telegram from the Daly City council which protested abandonment of the easement because of the use planned for the property.

Councilmen voted to protest the easement Monday at request of Don Lesher, who represented 335 petitioners opposing a gas station being located next to Colma school.

While Daly City has no jurisdiction in the matter, Lesher claims the protest of the city council would have an effect on the supervisors final decision.

Lesher pointed out that the Jefferson Elementary School district board of trustees has already opposed location of a gas station at the intersection. Daly City planning commission passed on the exchange of easements on the property, but Lesher says the commission did not know the use planned for the intersection.

MIKE CALLAN, an elementary school trustee, is continually harassed with the problem of double sessions, but he kind of contributed to the quandry this week.

His wife, LORRAINE, gave birth to twins Sunday morning at Children's hospital. The two new prospective students are JOHN THOMAS, 7 lbs., 12 ozs., and PAMELA LOUISE, 5 lbs., 14 oz.

What's more, Mike's wife (whose maiden name is LORRAINE DAY), has a brother (ERNEST) who married a girl named Lorraine.

LORRAINE DAY (not Mike's wife, but his sister-in-law), paid a visit to Children's hospital on Tuesday morning, had a 6 lb., 12 oz. boy.

Since Ernest and Lorraine Day live at 243 Abbot, Daly City, the Callans and Days have managed to increase the Jefferson School district future enrollment by three in two days.

Both "Lorraine Days" had the same doctor, same hospital, and as far as we know they could be sharing adioining rooms.

Whatta Day.

COMMITTEE TO AID VAN OTTENS, VICTIMS OF FIRE

Committee to raise funds for the family of Daly City Police Officer John Van Otten is seeking to help repair $4000 damage done to the Van Otten home in a fire early Monday morning.

Spokesman for the committee, Peter Markovich, reports that $200 has been raised so far. The Van Ottens, burned out of their house at 119 Mateo avenue, are now living in a Westlake apartment, for which two months' rent will be paid by Henry Doelger.

It is estimated that the police officer's home will again be ready for occupancy within the two months time.

Fire at Van Otten's home broke out at 4:48 a.m., according to Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

First to be awakened was Peggy, 14, who was sleeping in a bedroom next to that of her parents at the rear of the house. Three Van Otten sons, Steve, 17, Barry, 14, and Roy, 11, were asleep in a basement room.

After Peggy awakened her parents, the trio discovered that they were trapped in the rear of the house, the smoke being too thick for them to escape, Kennedy said.

The boys, awakened by their

Tragedy Almost Results From Boy's Yule Spirit

An 11-year-old Daly City boy, obviously unable to forget Christmas excitement for even one night, might have ended up Sunday without seeing the big day arrive at all.

Daly City fire department reported that they responded to a West Cavour street residence where they found the son of the household had taken a string of Christmas tree lights to bed with him. Chief Elmer Kennedy said that the youngster had then plugged in the lights, which growing hot, caught fire to the bed covers.

The boy's mother discovered the fire and called the fire department.

ATTEMPT TO SORT Christmas mail, coming through the local post office at a "mile a minute," is here done by Don Fisher (left) and Postmaster Vincent Murphy. Huge increase over last year's mailing is reported, with stamp sales up 30 per cent, parcels up 20 per cent, and mail up 23 per cent. The Daly City post office has added 78 employees and 14 trucks for the holiday season.

LIBRARY GROUP REVISES STAND; VOTES TO KEEP COUNTY SET-UP

Daly City library commission did an apparent turnabout Monday night when they informed the city council they were unanimously opposed to withdrawing from the county library system.

A week earlier, commission chairman Wayne Carr and librarian Patricia Clark had backed the withdrawal as a method to reduce taxes and at the same time increase library facilities here and make possible a $60,000 Westlake branch library.

In a letter to the council Monday, the commission revealed that at a special meeting the day before at the home of Dr. Lionel Farber they had "voted unanimously to recommend to the council a motion not to withdraw from the county library system." They said they would not recommend withdrawal until several conditions had been fulfilled.

Among Site Acquired

Among them were: Acquisition of site for the Westlake branch; completion and equipping of the building prior to the expiration of the current county contract; increase book stock from 10,000 to 15,000 volumes.

The commission said it would cost an estimated $42,000 to open the Westlake branch, exclusive of

Swains Sue Local Woman, Say She Promised Marriage

Four Filipino men who claim they were engaged to the same Daly City girl filed a $200,000 suit against her in San Francisco superior court Monday for defrauding them "by mis-representation of marriage."

The woman who allegedly gave freely of her heart was Amadea Avanzado, 153 Woodrow street. A son was listed as being born to a Mrs. Gil Avanzado of the same address on November 3, THE RECORD learned.

The four men claimed the woman captured their affection by simply taking advantage of the man-woman ration in the Filipino colony—which is 20 to 1.

The complainants asked for return of $2831.66 in money and gifts they allegedly gave her, and in addition, each one of them asked for $25,000 compensatory and $25,000 punitive damages, making a grand total of $202,831.66.

According to the four men's attorney, Frank Caccia, Miss Avanzado had promised to marry each man "in the near future" and none knew of the others.

Pinned to the door of Miss Avanzado's home Monday was a note saying, "Will be back Thursday, December 15. Please leave milk for baby. Sitters will pick it up. Avanzado."

Change Name, Add Two Members To Civil Service Group

Name of the Daly City Civil Service Board of Review was changed to the personnel board by the city council Monday night, and membership of that body was increased to five.

Up to now the civil service board has been made up to three members. They are at present Harry Bosbery, John Degliantoni and Clarence Schmidt.

Councilmen, who were unanimous in the two changes, did not recommend any appointments to fill the newly-created positions, but are expected to do so at the next regular meeting.

Find Woman Dead; Believed Victim Of Strychnine Poison

Mrs. Madeline Downall, believed to have swallowed strychnine, was found dead in her home at 16 Alexander street Monday afternoon. Police were called to the scene by Mrs. Downall's husband, Carl, who returned home from work to find his wife lying on the floor of her bedroom.

Officers reported that they found a bottle of strychnine and a water glass which showed traces of a powdery substance near the 52-year-old woman's body. Downall told police that he had noticed the poison in the house last week and his wife had told

THREE VACANCIES ON COMMISSIONS FILLED BY CITY

Three vacancies on Daly City commissions were filled by the city council Monday night.

Two residents of the Westlake area were named to take over posts in the recreation commission vacated by resignations.

The new recreation commissioners are Robert "Bobby" Cohn, 81 Belmont drive, an owner of West Coast Shows, and Louis Larcombe, 49 Sheffield drive, who is employed with the Bank of California. Larcombe was a member of the fire commission which was abandoned by the council this year.

The new commissioners will take over jobs formerly held by Victor Baher and Thomas Laramie.

Named to a vacancy on the planning commission ,created by resignation of former chairman Val Franz, 116 Wilshire avenue, was Anthony Masini, nurseryman of 698 Hillside boulevard.

All the appointments were unanimously approved by the council. Councilman Micheal De Bernardi nominated Cohn, Councilman Ed Dennis. Larcombe, and Councilman Del Wilson, Masini.

SERRA CAR BOOSTERS CHOSE NEW VICTIM

Car boosters who have been victimizing customers of the Serra theater in the last few months, removed three hub caps from the auto of Howard J. Naify, 516 Yale drive, San Mateo, on Sunday night. The car was parked next to the Serra.

Naify is the theater manager.

"I WILL RUN," SAYS SUPERVISOR CALLAN

"I didn't say it," declared Supervisor Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma yesterday in reply to news stories which quoted him as saying he would not run for re-election to the board next year.

Contacted by THE RECORD, the official said, "When I made statements to the newspapers about not filing for election, I was just talking about the way I felt at that moment."

Asked if he would run, Callan answered, "Oh, yes, I probably will."

Callan was quoted in county newspapers as saying "Life is short and I don't have too many more years left. Maybe I should spend my remaining years with my wife rather than keep butting my head against a stone wall in public service."

Later he related, "Sure I felt bad. When you send a letter to the chairman of the board and he returns it unanswered, it hurts. I did feel I had been butting my head against a wall.

"But when it comes time, I think I will run. You get disgusted from time to time. The real thing that made me mad was when I got that letter back," the supervisor revealed.

Callan had been quoted as saying Tuesday, "If today were the last day for filing nomination papers, I wouldn't file. That is the way I feel about it now."

Callan reiterated those feelings yesterday, but said they applied only to that particular moment.

If Callan did decline to run, possible candidates in the north end of the county would be San Bruno Mayor James Fitzgerald and James McKay of Broadmoor.

$100,000 Real Estate Deal For Bowling Alley Revealed

Sale of approximately $100,000 worth of property on Junipero Serra boulevard for a $250,000 bowling alley - cocktail lounge - restaurant is under negotiation, THE RECORD learned today.

The land, almost an entire block bounded by Junipero Sera, 88th, 89th and Sullivan streets, is owned by William Lagomarsino.

The real estate transaction was brought to light Tuesday night when the Daly City planning commission received a communication from Realtor Leland Barrett. Barrett said his office was "attempting to consummate the sale" of the land for purposes of constructing a bowling alley, bar, and restaurant with parking facilities. Barrett said his letter was merely to obtain information from the commission about their attitude on such a development.

Planners Approve

The commission took no formal action, but agreed to answer Barrett's letter and indicated they would approve an application for the use of the property out-lined by Barrett. The land is zoned light commercial.

Contacted by THE RECORD, "Barrett revealed he had "a couple of interested buyers," but added that the undertaking was still in the speculative stage.

Barrett said if the two buyers couldn't meet the necessary financial demands, "We'll try to sell this idea to someone else."

The entire project would cost between $250,000 and $350,000, exclusive of the cost of the land, Barrett estimated.

Confirms Deal

Lagomarsino confirmed that Barrett had been negotiating with him for purchase of the two-thirds acre of land and said, "We've arrived at a tentative figure . . . $100,000 is about right."

In other action Tuesday, the planning commission:

1. Directed G. Matheson to request a variance to sub-divide two lots for home construction at the Corner of Citrus and Willits streets. Although the land is zoned residential, the commission pointed out that the lots proposed by Matheson were under the 2500 square foot minimum.

2. Recommended that Daniel Frank Donovan request a use per-

Elementary School State Loan Vote Set March 27

Jefferson Elementary school district trustees will be authorized to borrow up to $2,500,00 in Chapter 19 state funds if district voters give their stamp of approval at the polls on March 27.

Three board members present at Wednesday night's meeting passed a motion setting the election despite objections pointed out by the administration. Trustees present were Mrs. Katherine Mullen, Hartley Appleton and Joseph Lewkowitz.

The $2,500,000 figure includes estimated state funds needed to complete Vista Grande, Vista Del Mar and Abraham Lincoln school plus any further building required in the future.

Estimated figure for completing the three schools without provision for future planning is $1,258,190. Suggestion to raise the amount to $2,500,000 was made at last week's meeting by Trustee Appleton, who claimed that the district should have enough funds to "take care of everything."

Currently Pays 26c

The district currently pays 26 cents out of its $1.55 per $100 tax rate to repay state loans already in existence. Re-payments to the state on Chapter 19 loans are made on a basis of ability to pay, and if a district is impoverished, a moratorium can be placed on

ENGINEER STATUS QUERIED, STITES ANSWERS CRITIC

Complaint was voiced this week that City Engineer Cyril Weiler, who is not registered in his profession, should not be checking plans and maps submitted by duly registered engineers.

"He's been giving permits for other engineers who are registered and changes plans all around," the source, who preferred to remain anonymous, said.

"Ninety per cent of the civil engineers in the state who are in charge of city departments are registered," he continued.

"I've got nothing against him," the source continued, "But I don't think it's right that he should be checking plans of registered engineers."

City Manager Howard Stites said, "Weiler is not registered yet in this state, but he's scheduled to take the next examination in June. Prior to coming to Daly City he was working in Alaska, where he was a registered engineer." Stites explained that California

Skyline School Dubbed "Abraham Lincoln"

"Abraham Lincoln" was approved Wednesday night by a three-man Jefferson Elementary school board as the name for the school known in the past as Palisades or Skyline. Site for the school, to be purchased from Henry Doelger, Inc., is located in the Palisades section of Westlake south of Westmoor avenue.

Name for the school was suggested by Trustee Hartley Appleton at a recent meeting at which time the board approved a policy of naming future schools after great persons in United States history.

Electric Code Debated At Council Meet

After considerable oratory from both sides Monday night, the city council held over decision on adoption of the National Electric Code.

Discussion was marked by numerous arguments against the code by members of the electrical unions, pleas for the code by builders and manufacturers, and lengthy parliamentary byplay on the part of the council.

Carl Timmons, engineer for Henry Doelger, presented exhibits comparing two types of wiring and reminded the council that the fire rating bureau had said, "The city using the National Electric Code gets the maximum rating on fire protection."

"Sub-Standard"

Electricians present, some 30 in all, declared through their spokesmen that the National Electric Code was "sub-standard."

Harold Gerber, registered engineer from San Francisco, said the code was a minimum one set up for cities where no county or state electrical ordinance was in effect.

He declared the NEC was "not adequate."

Henry Graher, representative of the National Electrical Manufacturers association, read a letter from the FHA which declared electrical installations made under the NEC were "considered acceptable for residential dwellings."

"It will be in the public interest and highly commendable of you to adopt the code," said Graher.

"Outmodes" Wiring

Graher said knob and tube wiring, which the electricians claim is a must for safe installations, was "a little outmoded from a cost standpoint and dying a natural death."

After several opinions had been heard from both sides, Councilman Micheal De Bernardi moved the matter be tabled, and received a second from Councilman Edward Dennis.

The motion was defeated in a roll call vote, with Dennis and De Bernardi's yea votes outweighed by opposition of Councilmen Sanford Vickers, Joseph Verducci and Del Wilson.

De Bernardi then moved that the hearing be closed and received unanimous approval on the mo-

7200 Youngsters Start 2-Week Vacation Today

More than 6000 Jefferson Elementary and High school district youngsters start a two-week plus vacation starting with the end of today's sessions.

Both the high school and elementary schools will observe the Christmas Vacation, with classes for both levels convening again Tuesday, January 3.

The 1200 children attending Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Holy Angels and Our Lady of Mercy Catholic parochial schools will observe the same holiday.

Hannah To Resign Post Of Jeff Superintendent

Resignation of Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the Jefferson Union High school district, was accepted with "deep regret" by trustees Monday night. Hanahn, who has been district head since 1944, will retire on July 1.

The superintendent, who suffered a serious heart attack last Spring, will be 62 years old in April.

Trustees will begin drawing up a list of qualifications for his successor at their next meeting on January 9.

Hannah's plans for retirement include an extensive tour of the United States with his wife. The couple plan to lease their home at 118 Garden Lane, Broadmoor, while on the trip.

"We've scheduled the tour to begin in mid-August so we can see the World Series," the superintendent laughingly commented.

Hannah, born in Missouri, graduated from Montana State college with a degree in agricultural education after serving overseas with the Marines in World War I. He was a teacher and principal in Montana before coming to California in 1927.

The superintendent taught two years at Denair, California, and became principal of Mendocina high school in 1929. He was principal of Gridley Union High school for seven years and took a position of district superintendent for Taft Union High school and Junior college in 1937.

In 1944, when Hannah came to the local district, there were 700 students and 28 teachers. At the present time, Jefferson district boasts 1750 pupils and a faculty of 72.

Superintendent and Mrs. Hannah, who were married in 1924, have three children. Dr. George Hannah of San Leandro, Mrs. John Morrow of Garberville and Mrs. John Murphy of Sterling Park. There are seven grandchildren.

3. Received preliminary plans from Henry Doelger for a Jefferson Elementary School district site in Westlake. The 10-acre site is west of Skyline drive, one-quarter mile south of Westmoor avenue. Doelger selected the site at the demand of the school board for more land to construct new schools. The commissioners recomended that the school board consider setting aside space for off-street parking at the site.

Probably the most successful Lake Merced fisherman in Daly City is WILLIAM J. EVANS SR. of 162 Irvington, a stationary engineer.

As of Monday, Bill had taken 699 trout out of the nearby lake over the past season. Don't start counting, now, it's all very legal.

Evans works nights and evenings, so takes advantage of the morning hours to catch his limit of five. Two days a week he's off and you guessed it . . . he goes fishin'.

Using salmon eggs, clusters or even the prosaic Velveeta cheese, Evans consistently takes fish from a lake that drives many a one-day angler to profanity.

He's taken several four-pounders this year, but claims there's still a leviathan of about 12 pounds skulking around the lake's bottom.

There's no doubt that nary a Daly City fisherman can match Evans record. Our only question is, what does he do when the season closes December 31?

Our guess is he reads about fishing.

EXPENDITURE OF PARKING FUNDS QUERIED BY C OF C

City council will meet with Chamber of Commerce officials in the near future to discuss expenditure of parking meter funds which the Chamber claims should be allocated for off-street parking.

In a letter to the council Monday, the Chamber claimed that the parking meter fund had been set up originally to finance parking facilities. The Chamber asked what had become of the funds.

City Attorney Frank Blum declared the money was kept in the general fund and could be used for a variety of city projects.

Mayor Joseph Verducci appointed Councilman Sanford Vickers to represent the council at a special meeting with the Chamber parking committee to discuss the matter.

tion.

Wilson, commenting that, "If anybody should object to the code if it was sub-standard it would be the fire underwriters and they are in favor of it," moved the national code be adopted, but received no second.

"Down-Grading"

Dennis commented, "This code is down-grading. I'd like a showdown on it now. I move it not be presented to the council for consideration."

Vickers concurred, but amended Dennis' motion to state that the city would continue operating under the county code.

At this point De Bernardi moved to table Dennis' motion and Wilson second. Roll call vote found DeBernardi, Wilson and Verducci favoring tabling the measure, with Dennis and Vickers opposed.

William Kennedy, local electrical contractor, then arose to ask the council when they were going to hire a full time electrical inspector.

"Not Adequate"

"We're paying some $25 to $30 a house for inspection and we're not getting adequate inspection," Kennedy charged.

City Manager Howard Stites said money had been budgeted for an electrical inspector and added that the city was considering transferring a firemen, Henry Weisner, into the new position. Stites said Weisner had the necessary qualifications for the job.

Kennedy replied, "The man Stites has in mind is not a qualified electrician. He was just a PG&E lineman and he doesn't know the code. The contractors would give him both barrels. He is definitely not qualified."

Verducci directed Stites to further check the man's qualifications and report back to the council.

Married Woman, 15, Fails At Suicide Try

Suicide attempt was made here Sunday afternoon by a 15-year-old girl, whose husband called police after she allegedly swallowed seconal tablets.

Officers were first called at 5:45 p.m. by the near-victim's husband who said his wife had taken the pills and then left the house. On searching the area, police said they were unsuccessful in locating the girl.

Shortly afterwards, however, police received another call for residents on Hillside boulevard who said that a young girl had fainted in front of their house.

The girl was treated at Junipero Serra hospital.

Upon arrival, Captain Sam Grado and Fireman Ernie Martini scaled an aerial ladder to lead the Van Ottens and daughter to safety.

Kennedy said that only articles left in the front of the house were the metal framework on the television set and springs on the chesterfield. Christmas presents were among the items destroyed.

The Van Ottens had no furniture insurance.

Cause of the fire was probably a mislaid cigarette, the chief declared.

Members of the Van Otten fund drive are Markovich, Kennedy, Henry Weisner, John Walsh, Chuck Munday, Les Bastedo, Gus Ford and Henry Gross.

TWO YOUTHS PLEDGE TO REPAY VICTIMS OF THEIR VANDALISM

Two Daly City youths were released from police custody on condition that they reimburse victims of a trail of vandalism left early Sunday morning.

Officers said that the boys broke headlights and windows on cars owned by Suburban Motors, 6770 Mission street; Eljon Motors, 6674 Mission street, and Lawrence Bradburn, 6712 Mission street.

The boys were questioned when they were found loitering near the scene of the crime and admitted the destruction, police said. Retracing the route from a party attended by the culprits, police also discovered a garbage can dumped in a bus zone, news racks kicked over into the street, an overturned motorcycle and a torn awning.

One of the youths was inducted into the army on Monday while the second is planning on joining the Marines after the first of the year, officers said.

DC MOTEL RECEIPT LINKS EX-CONVICTS TO CASBAH HOLDUP

A local motel receipt found in the possession of two Stockton ex-convicts places them under suspicion as the gunmen who held up the Casbah tavern of $350 on November 28, Bruno Conci, local police inspector, revealed today.

Conci said that the gun used by Paul R. Lane, 32, in a Stockton holdup early last week, is being checked by state authorities for final identification. He also said Lane and Edward C. Zekouski, 30, will appear before John Porter Trimble, Casbah owner, for identification.

California farmers were producing carloads of vegetables for Eastern markets as early as 1899.

IS THERE ANY GINGERBREAD?

There must be some thought behind all the tumult and shouting over the expense of Jefferson High school district's Westmoor school.

The arguments voiced by a score of Coastside residents that the district was "getting a Cadillac when a Chevrolet would do" are answered by the board's analogy, "We're getting a Cadillac for a Chevrolet price."

This citizen protest against what seems to them unnecessary expenditures for "frills" or "extras" is not exclusive to the Jefferson district. The same tenor of feeling has been evidenced throughout the state as the school construction behemoth continues to devour more of the citizenry's tax money.

That the board of trustees screened and pondered the Westmoor plans to the maximum of their ability goes without saying.

But many patrons of this district begin to wonder whether a few more dollars couldn't be left in the kitty if construction of schools was made more utilitarian than aesthetic.

The advisability of constructing Westmoor under the present plans was questioned by both state and county officials.

Laguna Salada school board trustees, who should know whereof they speak, Westview Improvement club and Manor Village Improvement club protested the awarding of bid on the job under the present elaborate specifications.

It is apparent that cost of building Westmoor is going to be just the first of a series of mammoth expenditures here for high school education plants.

Citizens have served notice that perhaps Westmoor is a little more like a "Cadillac" than the situation warrants.

Estimated architect's expenses of $120,000 alone is enough to raise many a taxpayer's eyebrow.

The layman is not qualified to determine the architectural needs of a project of Westmoor's magnitude. For that matter, neither are the board of trustees. But when state and county school officials start sniffing around, we'd say it's time for the patrons to take a closer inspection of gingerbread on the edifices we are building to educate youngsters.

SHOPPING BLOCK

News of Your Local Businesses and Business Men

By Jane Keith

Toyland Nursery school teacher Thelma Hamilton sets the tone for this week's column with the following shopping news: Seems that she and her daughter, Beverly O'Connell, spent a whole day canvassing the dress shops of the "big town" for a just right frock for Beverly to wear to her five week's old son's, Kevin, baptismal ceremony. They found it—not in "town," but in GLEASON'S DRESS SHOP!

In a similar vein we relate the story of still another visitor to GLEASON'S—Mrs. Walter Prehn of the Floral Arts Nursery at 1595 Junipero Serra Blvd. She spotted a Jonathan Logan dress in the window and came in to check the make and especially the price. "Why," she said in amazement, "I saw this same dress in S. F. but priced at $29.95 instead of your Gleason's price of just $19.95!"

Now that ten dollar mark-up IS unusually high, but we do know that all over Daly City merchants are taking less profit than the law allows—and are passing those savings on to YOU! Take advantage of their generosity and save money by shopping locally!

HILLTOP MARKET has a wonderful "stock up" Special on Woodbury's facial soap. Four bars for just 26c—all to help you have "the skin you love to touch."

This week's feature at the MODE O' DAY FROCK SHOP: Half Size, DRESSY dresses for just $6.99. Many styles—and absolutely fabulous fabrics!"

KENT TAYLOR, better known by his Television name of "Boston Blackie," was an unexpected and surprising Friday visitor to the SPUDNUT SHOP at 6714 Mission street. Mr. Taylor, we hear, looked "just the way he does on the screen" in spite of two missing items: his moustache—and that gorgeous hunk of streamlined automobile he drives as Boston Blackie. Why was he here? For a preview of the St. Francis theatre. What DID he drive? A new Mercury. What did he order? Why—delicious SPUDNUTS and coffee, of course!

What Do They Learn?

6TH GRADE EXPANDS FOUNDATION

Good learning foundation laid in the primary grades, as reported in these pages last week, shows in the middle elementary classroom visited by this reporter for this week's issue of THE RECORD.

Chosen to represent the midpoint in elementary school teaching was the sixth grade class of Mrs. Eileen Goldberg at Crocker school. While last week's subject, Mrs. Medzian, is classified as an experienced teacher by administrators, Mrs. Goldberg is a newcomer, this being her first year with the district. Following graduation from the University of California, however, she taught a year at the junior high school level in San Francisco.

The 30 pupils of Mrs. Goldberg begin their day with arithmetic. On the day this reporter visited the classroom, a fraction and decimal test was in progress. The children were given about half an hour in which to complete the 20 problems, following which they corrected a previous examination.

Mrs. Goldberg, who had just returned to school after a week's illness, instructed the students to clean off their desks before beginning the test.

Whoops

As one youngster crammed books and paper into a not-too-orderly desk, the entire mess fell onto the floor.

"I just cleaned my desk out yesterday," he replied in an abashed manner to the teacher's statement that she should start "inspection."

Scarcely a few minutes later, however, the young man marched up to the waste paper basket with an armload of trash.

The test completed, correcting of a prior exam began. Mrs. Goldberg carefully explained procedure on working each problem before giving the answer. Youngsters corrected their own tests.

A boy raised his hand. "I was at choir practice when we had this test," he stated.

"What have I told you about work missed because of extra-curricular activities?" sternly asked Mrs. Goldberg.

Home Work

"We're supposed to finish the work at home," the youngster admitted.

Jefferson Elementary school district policy allows homework to be scheduled at all grade levels, provided that good judgement be used by the teacher. Suggested time limits for incomplete, assigned, make-up and environment homework are: grades 1-4, not more than 15 minutes concentrated home study per school day; grades 5-6, not more than 20 minutes concentrated home study per school day, and grades 7-8, not more than 60 minutes concentrated home study in not more than two subjects per school day.

Scheduled from 10:30 to 11:20 a.m. was spelling. A test of 25 words was given the children by Mrs. Goldberg.

Words were as follows: training, instruct, traffic, neglect, injury, faith, companion, college, sermon, preacher, bureau, grocery, jealous, patience, guide, attention, stumble, instruction, faithful business, pastor, service, receive, building and complete.

Spelling Procedure

Mrs. Goldberg stated each word, used the word in a sentence and then repeated the word.

Examples were, "If you have patience, the job will be well done" and "In order to be a good soldier, we must have training." Sentences were obviously carefully chosen for their intent.

Upon reaching the word "pastor," the teacher asked, "Does anyone know the difference between a pastor and a preacher?"

An eager hand in the front row was raised.

"A pastor has charge of a church, and a preacher gives a sermon," was the answer, "It says so in the dictionary."

Following spelling, youngsters worked on penmanship. Special subject of the day was the difference between the "T" and "F."

Reading Groups

Next came reading. As in the primary grades, readers were divided into three groups according to their ability. Also similar to the first grade operation was Mrs. Goldberg's statement that motivation with the two slower groups is necessary.

Unlike the first grade visited last week where tangible objects are used for motivation, Mrs. Goldberg employs the use of questions. While the first group were obviously interested in reading their story, "Coast Guard to the Rescue," the second and third group had to be prompted.

Children not busy with reading were told by Mrs. Goldberg to, first of all, complete assigned Christmas poems, and then to read from supplementary readers.

Study Mexico

Following the lunch hour, pupils were taught social studies. At the present time Mrs. Goldberg's class is filled with projects done in connection with the study of Mexico. Displays include a half-completed mural, maps and an adobe house.

Physical education, music and health are also included in the afternoon study. Due to the Christmas season, youngsters are now in the midst of rehearsing their Yule Pageant, directed by Mrs. Goldberg. Afternoons are now devoted to this project, although Mrs. Goldberg explained that the remainder of subjects are juggled so that everything is taught.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

If you are looking for theatrical entertainment in the spirit of the season, you need search no further than Theatre Arts at 1725 Washington street. There you will find the San Francisco Civic theatre doing "Twelfth Night," a bit of light Shakespearian comedy.

With this, their third offering, the company has hit a new high, particularly from the production standpoint. Costumes by Richard Tripplett are outstanding and a few, particularly those created for the twins Viola and Sebastian, are absolutely elegant. The settings designed by Don Paul Roberts, and Anne Soule's Elizabethan-flavored score contribute their share toward making Abbott-Abrams production of "Twelfth Night" their most successful to date.

Although the play lacks the noble lines found in the playwright's great tragedies, the other side of the mask is there, with assorted love-lorn characters mooning and sighing after each other, and practical jokers seeking innocent merriment. Shakespeare's use of confused identities is no longer as intriguing as it was to past audiences, but it is refreshing to today's audience, accustomed to grim plays about confused people.

Lusty Days

"Twelfth Night" also reminds us that although dress and custom and speech may have changed since the lusty Elizabethan days, people are still people and are basically no different than they were then. Unrequited love is still painful, but never deadly. Conceit and vanity can still be played upon by anyone seeking to pass an idle hour, and the fool blindly wallowing in his own follishness is just as ridiculous as he was when the very first Malvolio fell into the trap set by the very first Maria. In this comedy as in his tragedies, Willie the Bard has worn extremely well during the past 350 years.

A cast of 16 permits mention of only the most noteworthy. Well out in front of these is Lawrence Berger as the roistering Sir Toby Belch. James Delano handled the role of Sir Andrew well, and special mention should be made of Eugene Cornelius's interpretation of the Clown. Wyman Spaulding was excellent as Malvolio, whose dreams of greatness make him easy prey for the pranksters. Marjorie Werby was a "gracious Olivia."

Smooth Delivery

The entire cast delivered their lines easily and smoothly, adroitly avoiding the Scylla and Charybdis of declamation or mumbling.

Weekend performances only, closing Sunday, December 18, and reopening January 5.

CHRISTMAS BONBONS AND SUGAR PLUMS and snowflakes and a Christmas Tree that grows higher and higher and higher will be on the stage of the Opera House when the San Francisco Ballet Company presents its traditional Christmas treat of a full-length production of the "Nutcracker." Matinees only, December 21 and 22 at 2:30 p.m.

What better Christmas gift for a good little boy or girl? Or yourself?

Schedule Free Yule Concert Wednesday

Plans for the free Christmas concert to be presented by the Daly City municipal band and Colma school girls' choir next Wednesday are progressing as scheduled, according to George E. Brenner, band conductor, and Mrs. Muriel Vint, choir director.

The two-hour concert, sponsored by the Recreation department, will start at 8 p.m. at the War Memorial Community center.

Program will include the following:

"Pride of the Marines," Austyn Edwards; "The King and I" selections, Rogers and Hammerstein; "Buglers Holliday," Leroy Anderson; "Sophisticated Swing," Lowell Thomas; "Childrens March," Edwin Franko Goldman; "Characteristic," Lou Singer; "Gateway to the Peninsula," George E. Brenner.

"Gesue Bambino," Yon; "Birthday of a King," Neidlmyer; "March of the Toys," Victor Herbert; "Adeste Fideles," Portagolla; "Silent Night," Franz Gruber; "Jingle Bells," Anon; "Fantistique," arranged by Harold Walters; "White Christmas," Irving Berlin; and "El Capitan," John Phillip Sousa.

The following girls will compose the choir:

Lillian Waldron, Laurel Klaisner, Judy Orr, Caren Hawkins, Janice Beck, Bette Jean Latimer, Barbara Golladay, Thelma Cubillo, Toni Settera, Rose Ann Berg, Jacklyn Shambora, Diana Dier, Patricia Rezendes, Judy McCann, Johanne Eckert.

Jean Lunn, Joan Crosby, Barbara Newcomb, Sherry Pollard, Joan Zelver, Donna Rafter, Janet Chandler, Wardell Anguilley, Joanne Shinazy, Judy Marlowe, Joyce Navarro, Teri Jean Coulter, Marlene Johns, Cheryl Vogel.

Lana Green, Margaret Foxman, Sandra Freire, Sharon Derham, Patricia Conley, Carol Jane Tate, Gail Lomstron, Carolyn Cameron, Marilyn Williams, Judith Milly,

Misbe-Haven Teens To Aid "Operation Santa Claus" Drive

Proceeds from Saturday's Misbe-Haven Teen club dance will be donated to "Operation Santa Claus," it was announced today by the recreation department.

The teen club joins ranks with other local organizations sponsoring the local charity drive, only campaign whereby benefits are received by Daly City residents.

A total of 58 families and over 200 children are on the committee's list to receive Christmas gifts, according to Co-Chairman Peter Markovich, who added that toys and donations are coming in slowly.

Toys may be deposited at Firehouse No. 2, 499 Santa Barbara avenue; Firehouse No. 5, 50 Lake Merced boulevard, or the city hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

The toy box at city hall has just been added this week by city employees who have each pledged to donate at least one new toy.

It is asked by Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy, who heads the toy campaign, that each article be marked as to age and sex of the child for which the toy is intended.

Cash donations may be mailed to either Markovich at 6454 Mission street or Chief Kennedy at Firehouse No. 5, 50 Lake Merced boulevard.

Sponsors of "Operation Santa Claus" are St. Vincent de Paul society, Daly City fire department, Lions club, Daly City Employees association, American Legion auxiliary and post 410, Eagles post and auxiliary 1848, Rotary club and Our Lady of Mercy Men's club.

DC Cabdriver Fails To Take Advantage Of Second Chance

A 32-year-old cab driver was arrested on a drunk charge Sunday night only an hour after he was issued a warning and sent home by local police. Scheduled to appear in municipal court next Tuesday is Lester S. Flowers, 22 Bepler street.

Officers said that they first encountered Flowers when they were sent to quell a fight in front of a local tavern at 10:40 p.m. At that time, Flowers refused to give his correct name and address or to accept medical attention for a cut over he left eye, police said. He was sent home in a cab.

A short time later, the police station received a call from Flowers' mother that her son had come to her San Francisco home, armed himself and reported that he was returning to the tavern for vengence.

Flowers was apprehended on Mission street, where police said he was staggering from side to side. He was released the following morning on $50 cash bail.

MAY ALLOCATE $1000 TO CODIFY DC LAWS

The council is expected to appropriate $1000 at their next regular meeting to pay the salary of a person who will be hired to codify the city's ordinances.

City Attorney Frank Blum explained to the council Monday that there was so much conflict in some of the ordinances that "we'll have to codify them." Blum said there was particular conflict in the ordinances governing licensing of businesses.

Some of the ordinances are obsolete, the attorney added.

SSF Asks Colma To Aid Drainage Program

Emmons McClung, city manager of South San Francisco, presented Colma Town council with a tentative plan for a drainage program to control the Colma creek waters at Wednesday night's meeting.

McClung has asked Colma to help finance the project. No action was taken.

Town of Colma will present its annual Christmas party at the town hall Saturday for children living within the corporate limits of Colma. Santa Claus will be on hand to present gifts, free ice cream, candy, cake and sandwiches.

DENNIS RE-ELECTED UNION PRESIDENT

Councilman Edward J. Dennis was re-elected to another three-year term Wednesday as president and business representative of Milk Wagon Drivers Union, local 226, which has a membership of 1300 men.

Head of the union for the past nine years, Dennis defeated Sam Haas, former milk driver official, 682-281.

News From Here & There

By Eleanor Doyle

Hear that a certain gentleman (a councilman) has been booked solid for many children's Christmas parties as one of Kris Kringle's many helpers. Some parties I know of wouldn't be the same if MR. SAN-TA wasn't there.

The ladies from the Martha Circle of the Grace Presbyterian church at Wincester and Crocker gathered the other evening at the home of MRS. SUE SAMPINO of Rice street for their annual Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged by the members, their outgoing President, MR. MACI MABI was honored with a lovely gift.

Get well wishes are being sent to MRS. JEAN GALANTI of Crocker avenue, who is in St. Mary's hospital convalesing.

Due home tomorrow from Pensacola, Florida, on a ten-day furlough is Navy LT. GLENN KOLLMAN. After his visit with his folks on Parkview, Glenn will report to Hutchingson, Kansas.

Many happy returns to MASTER THOMAS VAN AKEN of Abbot, who just celebrated his fifth birthday. A family gathering helped Tom to celebrate the day. Also hear that Dad added another candle on his cake this year. I know that he'd rather forget this birthday but I won't let him.

GIRL SCOUTS in TROOP 23 certainly deserve many praises for the wonderful work they did on this month's Girl Scout "TRIAD." I think its one of the best.

The traveling MacNealys of Abbot are at it again . . . enjoying last weekend in Sacramento visiting with relatives.

Recent hostess for FRIENDLY TWELVE CLUB was MRS. MARTHA WAGNER of Crocker avenue. They were all quite happy to see Mrs. Ann Eason back with the group again. A yule luncheon was enjoyed by all.

Belated birthday wishes are being sent to little MISS DIANE AMES of Abbott, who just celebrated her sixth birthday. Many happy returns go to her Mom too who also blew out another candle on her cake this year.

Seems that our list of working Mothers is growing bigger each week. Latest ones to join ranks with our career gals are . . . Mesdames: E. Loomas, M. Pagett, J. Comer, and G. Burger.

Sporting chicken pox these days is REBECCA GEORGE of Wildwood drive. Her brother PHILLIP who decided to share them with her is completely well now, so Rebecca is sitting it out alone.

A great big "HI" to you, MRS. FRANCES RIGGAR, over there in Japan. Hope THE RECORD is keeping you informed on what's new in our town, with your friends and mine. Your letters are being enjoyed by all. We miss you at our meetings.

A very busy guy these days is JIM GALLAGHER of Woodrow street who is now President of the Northern California Public Golf association. He is also Vice President of the board of directors of the Harding Park Golf club. In his spare time Jim can be found out at Harding, golfing with his son Johnny.

Broadmoor Village is about to lose another very popular couple. While shopping the other day I bumped into VERNA DUSTE and she informed me that she would be leaving soon to make San Mateo home. Even though I don't see too much of her I shall miss knowing that she is no longer a part of Broadmoor.

This year's garden party was held at the Parkview Scout house with host and hostess duties being shared by MR. and MRS. DICK HUNTER. It was a combination Christmas party and a family pot luck dinner. Gifts were exchanged by the group and there were many lovely prizes for the children.

Abbot avenue has claimed a big sick list this week, with Miss Diane Ames down with the flu, while bad colds claimed JEANIE RADZIKOWSKI. JUDY WILLOUBY, and LINDA and DONA ORNELLAS.

Another recipient of a surprise baby shower is MRS. LORRAINE MIGNAUL of Garwood drive. She went down to Belmont the other evening to visit her sister and found many of her neighbors and relatives awaiting her arrival. "Stork Over Garwood Drive" was the theme of the shower. Also hear that LORRAINE celebrated her birthday the same day as the shower—so many happy returns.

THE SAMPINOS of Rice street and THE MacNEALYS of Abbot were seen the other evening enjoying dinner at Marconi's, celebrating the promotion of Mr. Sampino's Swifts Ice Cream promotion.

MRS. NORA SILBER was the recent hostess for the regular meeting of a newly formed club in Teresa Terrace. There are eleven members in this group, but as yet no name has been selected.

Glad to hear that JOE PICCARDO of Moltke is up and around after a bout with the flu bug. Understand we owe you a happy birthday wish—better late than never.

Some more belated birthday wishes go to WAYNE SNOW who just celebrated his tenth birthday. . . . Many happy returns to ALVIN WONG who just claimed his twelfth birthday. . . . Another resident of Abbot who blew out three candles on his cake last week is MASTER JAY ORNELIAS. A big family gathering last Sunday helped Jay to celebrate.

A surprise baby shower for MRS. ALICE DAVIS of Citrus street was held last week in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leroy Davis of Redwood City. Many beautiful baby gifts were received by the mother-to-be.

PFC. RICHARD HICKS writes his Mother that he is well and would like very much to receive THE RECORD, to keep informed with news at home. Dick is stationed outside of Manila where he says the people have been very good to him. So hello to you, Dick, hope that the paper reaches you each week. The gang on Abbot sends their best wishes to you over there.

THE ART HUELSES of Abbot are really in the Christmas spirit. They have been busy decorating the front of their home to the delight of all the youngsters on the block. All the decorations were made by ART throughout the year. We folks on Abbot urge you to drive by some evening and see Rudolph the red nose reindeer leading the parade across the Huelse home. ART and RUTH with their two daughters are fairly new residents to our community and have certainly done a lot to perk up our block this Christmas.

NEWS FROM STERLING PARK . . . Instead of their usual meeting last week Den 1 and 3 gathered at the HILLMAN home on B street for a Christmas party. All the Cub Scouts enjoyed a wonderful time including the Den Mothers — ALICE LETCAVAGE and DOROTHY HILLMAN. . . . Talked to MRS. DELORES ROACH of C street and she informs me that she is able to walk quite a bit now without the help of anyone. Keep up the good work, Dolores. . . . THE HILLMAN HOME on B street seems to have been a busy one this week. All the children on B street gathered there for their annual Christmas party. Movies were enjoyed by the youngsters and parents alike. Santa arrived in the nick of time with gifts for all the children. . . . Sterling Park has a celebrity living among them by the name of BRAD WARD, better known as Samuel PEEPLES, who resides on C street. Mr. Ward is the author of "The Marshall of Medicine Bend" which has been made into a movie appearing now downtown under the name of "The Lawless Street." Mr. Ward has many publications that have been copied in several languages. So our congratulations to you, Mr. Peeples—your neighbors are all very proud of you.

Well, this is it for this week. Hope I have kept you well informed with all the news. Remember to call PL 5-5419 with your news items.

Grant Extension On Annexation Contract

City council Monday night approved annexation agreement with Ricco Lagomarsino, which called for completion of municipal improvements in two years.

The agreement gives Lagomarsino two years in which to install curbs, streets, drains and gutters on land in southeastern Daly City which he plans to sub-divide. In event the builder does not develop the land, at the end of the two years he will be given a six-months extension of the agreement in order to revert the land back to its acreage status.

One of the most interesting evenings we've spent in a long time was shared by Eileen Winter and Billie and Bob Buchanan at the Orloff home on Stewart recently. Martin and Meredith had as their guests Professor and Mrs. Lawrence Fawcett, who stopped off in San Francisco just long enough to get things in order for a trip to India by freighter.

Currently, they are doing research on Buddhism, with a previous trip to Japan made for the same purpose, and have already prepared a book from part of this material. The Fawcetts have done a great deal of traveling, and plan to see Cairo, and possibly Athens and Jerusalem, on the way home from India. Professor Fawcett took the group present, on the evening mentioned, on a mental trip which covered teaching methods, graded reading books for children, Socrates, Confucius, comparative religions, educational television as a medium for art education, caravans and Phoenician ships as methods of transmitting culture, theories as to Polynesian contact with the Mayan civilization in South America, and the many priceless paintings in European museums too small and delicate to be exhibited constantly, and of which he has taken many colored slides. Altogether it was a thoroughly wonderful, stimulating evening, and all the guests went home with a great deal to think about.

Lose Two More

Speaking of traveling, it looks as though the Villages are going to lose two more families. Jan Talbot and the children are planning to spend Christmas in a new home at Sleepy Hollow. Paul's transfer to Petaluma as a resident engineer for the state highway commission meant too long a commute back to Bradley drive. Their new address will be 711 Fawn drive, and Jan hopes all her friends will come and see her after the dust of settling down has cleared! Lee and Marie Pitts and the four children will be leaving Maddux drive for Corralitos, a small town near Watsonville, and will be spending Christmas in a new home, too, we hear.

One person who seems to be planning to stay around here for a while is young Mark Swedberg, who had a christening, complete with party, for himself a while back. Parents Nonette and Herb report proudly that Mark didn't cry one bit! Mr. and Mrs. Lyal Neville, Nonette's parents, and Nonette's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reyburn, went to Holy Angels church for the christening, as did her aunt, Mrs. Roberta Ware. Everybody went home to 90th street afterwards for the party, where they joined with Herb's brother John and his wife, Kay and Ray Logan, George and Diane Larson (George used to work in BV for PT&T) and a few million children! It was a very successful party, with dinner included.

We think Renee Senter up on Stoneyford should receive a Brave and Heroic Mother award—she managed a 5th birthday party for son Bernie and a 4th birthday party for son Peter within a week, while planning Christmas decorations, presents, etc., for her family at the same time! Both parties had a clown theme, and Bernie's party included some 14 guests from his kindergarten class at Garden Village school. Ronnie had schoolmates, too, from the Village Play school. His guests were Jeffrey Bentz, Jane Engebretson, Kit Faudion, Colleen Kelly, James and Jeffrey Lawrence, Daniel Riggs, Elithea Whitaker, Jan Macklin and Gary Hewett.

Back To Work

One of BV's first citizens, Herb Stettler, has gone back to work again after too long a siege with this germ and that. Wife Hilda reports that the rest has done him good, and he looks and feels much better. Herb's whole family is feeling extra proud of him right now; at the dinner VFW Post 9921 gave for Boy Scout Troop 129, he was presented with a beautiful watch in recognition for his outstanding service as the troop's Scoutmaster, a post his illness forced him to give up. Couldn't happen to a nicer person. . . .

Troop 129 is doing pretty well for itself in all sorts of ways, it seems. Webb Parker accompanied his brother Scott and Phil Green to the Scout ceremonies in San Mateo, in which all three participated. Scott and Phil are both members of Post 129, and they joined with an Air Scout and a Sea Scout in presenting the new four-year Scouting theme, "God and My Country" before the county Scout commissioners.

Claire Vocke (MacArthur) has finally come down to earth after a frenzy of activity as Broadmoor chairman for the United Crusade drive. Her problems reached a peak when son Richard came down with flu, but he's all right by now and the drive is over, so all Claire has to worry about is Christmas shopping, unless she has it finished by now! (NOTE: We know some people who do have it all done!)

Another birthday boy was Ronnie Christopherson, over Sweetwood way, who turned four recently, and had four guests, appropriately enough. Eddie Edmison, Gordy Bonser, Lisa Hollenback and Nancy Bradshaw came over to share the fun, and of course brother Bobby and sister Carol were right there too. Extra treat for the young Christophersons was the knowledge that their grandfather was coming from Manitoba to spend the winter with them. "Goodie" Einarson is their mother Pauline's father, and the cold Canadian winter that visits the farm where he lives with his son is not to his liking. Pauline told us that her grandparents originally came from Iceland, and that she lived in Manitoba, too, until about ten years ago.

Charlotte Spruiell's Sweetwood home was full of conversation, laughter and good fellowship when she gave a tea recently in honor of Sabina Fairbanks, president of the Presbyterian Women's Association. Guests were Mrs. John A. Glasse, Jean Nourse, Dorothy Swoverland, Augusta Zeige, Inez Weibel, Jane Whitehead, Erma Tarleton, Norma Neill, Mabs Guz, Julia Rued, Leah Harrison, Hortense Sundman and Bunny Gillespie

Wonderful presents, wonderful food and wonderful friends were what Evelyn Toschi had to say about the baby shower given for her recently by Cleo Cheskey and Rilla Peterson at Cleo's Louvaine home. From the size of the guest list, Cleo and Rilla must have used shoe horns to fit everyone in! Betty Cooper, Joanne Cross, Rally Hirshberg, Helen Richardson, Alyce Bird, Mary Lichtenberg, Betti Kass, Willie Johns, Toni Henry, Lillian Williams, Elizabeth Oswald, Dorothy Goodwin, Dee Cowan, Katie Flanagan, Virginia Bell, Jean Wiitala, Ann Zweig, Kay Logan and Nan Melinac all came to enjoy themselves. They did, for certain, and so did Evelyn!

On the subject of gifts, the Santa Claus in the Emporium one recent day probably went home with a king-sized headache, having been bombarded by three small Bullens (with mother Betty and both grandmas in town), three small Ganes (with mother Isabelle on her own) and four small Mitchells (who exhausted father and mother before it was all over!) all on the same afternoon! Also met Helga Giesecke and daughter Ingrid, en route to the party dress department, and thought we saw Bets Doyle in the lamp department. Spy and Counter-Spy!

That loud crashing noise outside the Hirshbergs' house on 87th street at 3 a.m. recently was Rally's car being run into and thoroughly demolished. Fortunately, the driver of the other car wasn't hurt, but there was a lot of excitement there for a while. To top it all off, before the glass, etc., could be cleaned up, the rains came, so Rally did some street-cleaning at breakfast time! The week before this memorable Friday, the Hirshbergs were all in Los Angeles, where they spent the Thanksgiving weekend with Rally's aunt and Jim's parents. To the great delight of Judy and Paula, the trip also included Disneyland, which the whole family enjoyed. And who else from the Elite of Eighty-Seventh street should be there but Dagny Golladay and daughters Barbara and Nancy! How Villagers do get around!

Turn About

Turn about is fair play, and a resident of Los Angeles came up this way for Thanksgiving. She was Mrs. Mabel Meeker, Roy Edmison's mother, who spent the holiday with Roy and Marie on Sweetwood. It was a special occasion, indeed, marking the first meeting of young David Edmison and his grandma, with sister Katherine and brother Edward assisting with introductions. Mrs. Meeker is now visiting in Santa Rosa with another of her sons, and plans to spend Christmas with a third son in Oregon.

Good news — Corinne Ford is home from the hospital, earlier than expected, and there is great rejoicing in the family home on Larchmont, you may be sure. She still will have to go back to Letterman for dressings for a while, but meanwhile she and her sisters can dream about Christmas together. Her mother, Mrs. John Ford, asked us to thank all the thoughtful people who sent cards and things and helped make the little girl's stay in the hospital more pleasant.

Home is Johnny, the Buchanans' younger boy. He has been spending his time in the hospital waiting for a skin problem to heal, and for a while, mother Billie wasn't sure he'd be home for Christmas at all. But the family is all together on Manila now, and they want to say thanks also to the people who sent Johnny things to make the long days a little brighter.

Over on Maddux one day, Lynn Auer was trying very hard to pay attention to her dancing lesson, but her heart wasn't in it. Skipper, her budgie, had gotten out and flown away and nothing would console her. Some hours later, Vi Murphy heard noises on her front porch, and who was there but Skipper! A phone call, and Skipper was back home, Lynn was happy, and peace and quiet came to the Auer household once more.

Happy 12th anniversary to Roy and Millie Esposto, while we're on location on Maddux. Since the 12th is the (traditionally) linen anniversary, one of their presents was linens! Another was a scrumptious clock-radio.

Signs of the times: Our Brownies and Girl Scouts going down to sing at the mitten tree in South San Francisco. The mittens on the tree were for children in Korea. . . . Vi Murphy buying Christmas trees by the gross for the schoolrooms and the BPOA and a few other people! . . . Helga Giesecke playing her accordion and Bobby Sirianni and Jill Chalmers singing carols at a Christmas party in the mental ward of the veterans' hospital in Palo Alto. . . . Great preparations at the Broadmoor Police Department for the Christmas party they are giving all the children this Saturday (Dec. 17) at 10 a.m. in the multipurpose room at GV school. Cartoons, ice cream, candy and fun will be the bill of fare, with Santa Claus as chief host.

Welcome Twins

Gilman's Harry and Florence Greenwood are not sure whether traffic in their house should move left and right, back and forth, or up and down. There are now six little Greenwoods! New twin girls have been added—Susan Marie (5 lbs., 8 oz.) and Terese Marie (5 lbs., 9 oz.), and Judy, Richard, Pamela and Michael are all in a dither. Seems that two babies weren't expected until about a week before they arrived, so some tall and fancy preparations were in order! Needless to say, there's one home that's full of Christmas happiness.

Pat and Don Tannehill on Washington aren't doing so badly either. Seems Scott Patrick came along to keep Mark, Mike and Jeff company. He arrived a little early, but is doing fine, and now weighs 5 lbs., 7 oz. or so. Father Tannehill is doing motorcycle duty on the Bay Bridge for the State Police these days, and was one of only five to stay in northern California after academy days. Lucky, lucky!

Those wives down on Foothill are always doing something, and this time it was a sort of share-the-wealth birthday party we heard about. Seems that Darlene Brand, Fran Dethlefsen and Mabs Guz shared a birthday cake party at Doris Chichester's house one day, and then later on Fran gave the same sort of party at her house for Doris. Mabs and Darlene went there, too. And Ruth Jones, Lita Muller, Maurine Guymon, Vivian Leech and Norma Wandt were the lucky guests who got invited to both parties!

Yule Cake

A Christmas tree cake that stood a foot high, with white icing and red candles and a Santa Claus on top, was the main delight at Stevie Jacobsen's 5th birthday party. The cake was the work of art of Lena Banfield, who lives near the Jacobsons on 2nd avenue in Daly City. Guests were Alfred and Johnny Banfield, Chuckie Schaffer, Mike, Ricky and Cathy Revetria, Joey Morch, Marty and Susan Organziack and Joanne Jacobson. Since it was a Sunday afternoon party, and the Christmas carols on the record player and the cake made the whole thing very holiday-ish, assorted fathers and mothers kept dropping in and out all day, and Stevie played host to most of the neighborhood!

Some thirteen Girl Scouts from Troop 27 shared Judy Beckerman's 11th birthday, together with Paulette Kelling and Jenny Beckerman. Since the weather was bad, and there wasn't quite enough room at the Beckerman home on Sweetwood for everybody to spread out, the party moved over to the Colma Community Center on Dunk Street. After all the regular celebration festivities, they went ice skating at the Leggs' rink on Ocean avenue. Quite appropriate for a December birthday!

MR. AND MRS. William J. O'Connell, 280 Hillside boulevard, Daly City, recently celebrated their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary during a brief winter holiday in Reno, Nevada. They took the "Bright Lights" air tour to Nevada's entertainment capital and celebrated their anniversary while there.

PLYMOUTH DEALERS TELL SAFETY PLAN

A five point auto safety program, designed to cut accidents during the holiday season, was outlined today by Daly City Plymouth dealers Aero Motors and James E. Donahue.

The dealer safety program cites the following five auto mechanical features important to Bay Area motorists for safe winter driving.

1. Brakes must be in good condition.
2. Headlights, tail lights and stop lights must function properly.
3. There should be no leaks in the exhaust system.
4. Worn tires should be replaced.
5. Windshield wipers must work properly.

LARRY WARDS NAMED PREXIES OF LOCAL CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ward were elected to the presidency of the "Mr. and Mrs." club, which now boasts 20 members, at the last meeting.

Other officers are, Messrs. and Mesdames: Ken Meitz, vice presidents; Bob Roscow, secretaries; Frank Tanner, treasurers and Marty Berlin, publicity chairmen.

First meeting of the new slate was held at the Ward home on Sweetwood drive where members planned the year's fund raising party, held December 3.

A total of 35 persons attended the fund party which had as its admission price, canned goods, later raffled off. Winners, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Adams, donated half their take to St. Vincent de Paul society.

Proceeds from the event will be used for a children's Christmas party.

BROADMOOR POLICE YULE PARTY SET FOR SATURDAY MORNING

Police Commissioner Ross Hilton will don Santa Claus garb Saturday for the annual Christmas party for Broadmoor children. The event, sponsored by the Broadmoor police department, will start at 10 a.m. at Garden Village school.

Movies and refreshments will be featured, according to Chief Ray Savage.

Private Evans Now Home On 20-Day Leave

Private Richard A. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Evans, Sr., arrived home Thursday for a 20-day leave from Alaska. The Evans home is at 162 Irvington street, where the family has lived since 1938.

The soldier is stationed near Anchorage, Alaska, where he is in charge of maintaining diesel generators.

Other Evans son, Bill, Jr., has recently been transferred from Maryland to Virginia where he is assigned to a radar protection position at the nation's capitol. After ending his term with the army, he will wed Miss Ermanell Louise Roberts of Lakeport on July 29.

Both boys were graduated from Jefferson Union High school.

SAVIOR CHURCH GREETS 100th NEW MEMBER

At the Lutheran Church of Our Savior last Sunday, the 100th new member who has joined the congregation during 1955 was presented with a plaque by Dr. Walter Hellman, president of the American Lutheran church.

The Rev. Luther Schliesser, pastor, announces this Sunday he will preach at all three services, 8:30 and 10:45 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school classes, which are open to all ages, convene at 9:30 a.m. The church is located at Junipero Serra and Garfield streets.

Vista Grande Begins Yule Celebration At Sunday School

The 101 Vista Grande Avenue Christian church begins its Christmas celebration with a Sunday School Program at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. Oliver de Graaf, superintendent, will be in charge, and all the Sunday school will participate.

Dr. Howard Patrick McConnell, minister, will speak at the 10:55 o'clock worship service on the pre-Christmas theme, "The Old Hebrew Road to Bethlehem."

The joint choirs of the Golden Gate and the Vista Grande Avenue Christian churches will present a Christmas Cantata, "The Savior's Birth" Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Bernard Green is the director organist.

Bible study is on Wednesday evening, and the Christmas dinner on Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Sydney King is in charge of dinners, and Mrs. Robert Hacker of table arrangements. John Morton heads the serving committee.

Dr. and Mrs. McConnell will entertain older members of the church and community in a Christmas party this Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Charles Lawless, Mrs. Eva Powell, Dr. McConnell and others will contribute to the program. Mrs. John Morton, Mrs. Joseph Bloodworth, and Mrs. Charles Baldinger are hostesses.

The Jack 'n Jills Sunday school class of the younger married set will hold a covered dish dinner party Saturday evening at 7 o'clock with a Christmas program following, in which Dr. McConnell presents his new Christmas story, "The Inn Keeper of Bethlehem."

Grace Presbyterian Offers Yule Musical

The Grace Presbyterian church choir will render a Christmas festival of music Sunday afternoon in the sanctuary at 4 o'clock.

The program, under the direction of Marion Walker, will consist of the following:

Prelude, Mrs. Zella Darnall; chorus, "Silent Night"; Oratorio, "Praise ye the Lord" by Saens; anthem, "Birth of a King" by Neidlinger; girls chorus, "Angels and Shepherds" by Goetz; spiritual, "Behold that Star" by Kane; anthem, "Noel, Noel" by Gevaert; anthem, "Christmas Lullaby" by Rogers; carol, "God rest ye merry gentlemen"; anthem, "Hark what means those Holy Voices" by Rosewig; solo, "Star of the Orient" Marion Walker; The Hallelulah Chorus from the Messiah.

The public is invited to attend the Musicale and the coffee hour following in the fellowship hall.

MARIAN CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Marian club will receive Holy Communion next Sunday at the 9 o'clock Mass at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church. Following the Mass, a Christmas Breakfast party will be held in the school cafeteria.

Diane Dimaggio is in charge of entertainment and has arranged for the Marian club glee club to sing Christmas carols. Bob Brandt, directing the Marian Club band, will present a musical arrangement that will include the ever popular Christmas songs. There will be an exchange of gifts, prizes and Santa Claus himself has promised to put in his appearance.

Geneva Avenue Church To Offer Yule Concert

Geneva Avenue Methodist church will present their Christmas concert by the church choir and guest soloists this Sunday evening at 8 p.m.

Cantatas and other music will be on the program to be directed by Jules Routbort, choir director. Birdie Cohen will play the pipe organ. Admission is free, and the public is invited.

Dr., Mrs. I. Budaeff Visited By High Figure In Orthodox Church

Honored last Tuesday evening in their home by the presence of his Eminence, Metropolitan Leonty of the Eastern Russian Orthodox church of the United States, Canada and South America, were Dr. and Mrs. Ivan Budaeff of Daly City.

Invited to the occasion, a dinner party, were Father George Bennington of the San Francisco Trinity Cathedral and Mr. and Mrs. George Budaeff. George Budaeff officiates as vice-president of the Trinity Cathedral.

His Eminence, Metropolitan Leonty, who has been in San Francisco for a short stay, will travel to Detroit to lead a conclave of bishops from Russian Orthodox churches in the Americas. Metropolitan Leonty headquarters in New York City.

BROADMOOR BIKE AD WAS MISLEADING

A line of type was omitted in November 30's Broadmoor Bicycle Shop advertisement in this paper. This caused the ad to read "free bicycles." It should have read "90 days free service with the purchase of every new B. S. A. bicycle." The free bicycle ad wasn't too misleading. The bargains you get at the bike shop are almost that good.

The San Andreas rift, California's greatest active earthquake fault, is clearly traceable for over 650 miles from Point Arena to the Salton Sea.

DC Women's Civic Club Active In Local Projects

Editor's note: This is the fourth of a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature each woman's club listed in our files in alphabetical order.

Although the 12 members of the Daly City Women's Civic club are meeting today (Thursday) for their annual Christmas party and luncheon, their meetings are not always merely social affairs. The group has been active for many years in civic projects.

The organization was founded on April 19, 1933, at the home of Mrs. Lillian Landini, 141 Winchester street. Fifty-one women attended the first meeting and met twice monthly for many years.

Early history of the club found members doing depression relief work. Mrs. Margaret Fields took charge of the county relief, while Mrs. May Chesney headed the group working on the Daly City relief project.

Well Baby Clinic

A well baby clinic was another function of the group. Mesdames Chesney, Mazie Boyle and Ann Eason were a few of the public spirited citizens who prepared infants for examination by doctors.

Members were saddened at closing of the clinic which they felt was badly needed.

According to Mrs. Fields, supervised recreation was another "baby" of the women. She reports that most active in this project were Mrs. Boyle and Mrs. Eason.

Still another philanthropy of these two members was the Service Men's Hostess House, opened during World War II. Local service organizations each took a night in which to provide refreshments and company for servicemen who found a refuge in the center, then located at Mission and Crocker streets.

Promote Good Schools

Throughout the years, members have been active in promoting good schools. Board of Trustee meetings were well attended by members, and the organization devoted much time and effort towards the passing of bond elections. One member, Mrs. Eason, today is a trustee on the Jefferson Union High school board.

Funds for aiding boy and girl scout and fireside girl groups were derived from whists, parties, dances and raffles.

Today the Daly City Women's Civic club sponsors a U. S. Naval hospital in Yokosuka, Japan, where they send gifts and home-baked food. Other projects include Cancer Society drive participation, and visiting and sending gifts to near-by hospitals and sanitariums.

Officers of the club are, Mesdames: Edward Cavagnaro, president; John Fields, vice president; Edward Byrne, treasurer; M. Fields, recording secretary; James Linden, corresponding secretary; and Steve Gardella, sunshine chairman and historian.

Other members who meet monthly are, Mesdames: Frank Watson, William Lewis, Joseph Gehrig, Edward Boyle, Robert Poole and Ann Eason.

DC Miss Appears At Christmas Ball

Singing-dancing starlet Penny Almquist, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wililam Almquist, 543 San Diego avenue, will be a guest performer at the Moose Christmas ball to be held Saturday evening at Moose auditorium.

The Daly City youngster, already a veteran performer at various musicales, will render two songs and a dance at two different intervals during the program.

Miss Almquist' teacher is Marylan Wall of San Francisco.

The ball is sponsored by SF Lodge 26, L.O.M.

Eagles Annual Xmas Party This Sunday

Santa Claus will be on hand to greet the children of Colma-Vista Grande Aerie 1848, F.O.E., when they once again hold their annual Christmas party Sunday from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Aerie Hall, 3344 San Jose avenue.

There will be gifts, fruit, candy, ice cream and free movies, for all the Eagle children. All members are urged to bring their youngsters.

Chairman of the event, Charles Maschinot, says "over 500 children are expected, and they will more than enjoy themselves." Serving on the committee are: Joe Rayla, Charles Bartha, Jim Hudson, Willie Grubb, David Malinoff, John Mona, Del Wilson, Jerry Summers, Del Fehl, John Pioroski and John Molani.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Entertain At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Porter recently gave a dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. U. Leonard Groves of Berkeley. Groves, District Deputy Grand Master of District 64, IOOF of Oakland, is past Noble Grand of Fountain Lodge.

Mrs. Grove is past district deputy president of Nashville, Tenn., Harmony lodge.

Hostess of the dinner, Mrs. Porter, is a member of Templar Rebekah lodge 19 of San Francisco.

BETHEL 183 TO HOLD FAREWELL MEETING

Bethel 183, Job's Daughters, will hold a farewell meeting for Miss Sharon Silveria tonight (Friday) at 7:30 p.m. at Masonic Temple, 4705 Third street.

A Christmas party will follow the meeting, according to Laurine Taylor, publicity chairman.

DC POLICE RESERVES TO HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY NEXT FRIDAY

Daly City police reserves will hold their annual Christmas party next Friday, December 23, it was announced today. The event will be held at 255 Vista Grande avenue, and special guests will be the children of reserve offices.

MISS LINDNER IS HONORED AT BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Jean Lindner, fiancee of Louis Edward Merlo, was honored with a bridal shower at Lyle's restaurant in South San Francisco recently.

Fifty friends and relatives attended the shower. Mrs. LaVerne Costanzo, 97 Vale street, and Mrs. Mary Irwin of San Francisco were hostesses. Miss Lindner cut a huge shower cake decorated in white and yellow.

The engaged pair plan to be married January 7 at St. Paul's church in San Francisco.

Miss Lindner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lindner, 240 Randall street, San Francisco, while the future benedict, a Jefferson graduate of 1950, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Merlo, 57 Vale street.

Five DC Residents Pass State Bar

Five Daly City residents were among the 466 candidates who successfully passed the fall state bar examination, it has been announced by the California State Bar association.

Successful applicants from Daly City are:

Antonio Marquiz Bautista, 183 Oliver street; Paul L. Martelli, 20 Forest Grove drive; Dorothy Elliott Mead, 81 Crestwood drive; Harold Davis Sandell, 61 Park Plaza drive, and Raymond Hedelius Simmons, 981 Wildwood drive.

A total of 855 candidates took the test this year. Successful candidates will be certified in ceremonies before the supreme court in San Francisco on December 21.

Eagles Kids Party

Golden Gate Aerie No. 61, FOE, announces their annual kiddies Christmas tree party at the Mission High school, 18th and Dolores and Church streets, Tuesday eve-

JANICE TOOLE MODELS AT FASHION SHOW

Janice Toole of Colma was one of the models at the fashion show of ski togs held yesterday (Thursday) on the Coyote Point campus of the College of San Mateo. Womens Recreation association presented the fashion show and showed films in preparation for the annual ski trip.

This year's trip is scheduled for the weekend of January 27-29 at Starwberry Lodge. Some forty coeds who have signed up for the trip will be accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Weston and Miss Virginia Burton, CSM faculty members.

The ski togs were modelled through the courtesy of Darcy's Sports shop in San Mateo and the films depicted fundamental techniques in skiing and demonstrations of skill by professional skiers.

Crockerites Report

Mrs. D. Malone's Second Grade

We had our class breakfast before Thanksgiving vacation. The entire breakfast was prepared and served by the various members of our class. Richard Lawson was the chairman. Milo Torres, Charlene Marshall, Robert Abigana and Robert Keith headed the various food committees. Place mats were woven by each child and our desks were our breakfast tables. The children served the breakfast which consisted of cereal, juice, buns, and hot cocoa." It was a happy experience and culminated our study of "What Constitutes a Good Breakfast." The children found out that to prepare their own breakfast once in awhile was a good experience.

At present we are busy with all the Christmas decorations and gifts for Mom and Dad. We even made our own Christmas socks this year. If you have a chance come and visit our school, the halls are decked with holly and our socks are "hung by the chimney with care."

Mrs. J. Koenig's First Grade

Crocker's first grade certainly has been given parent support. When our cadet teacher was leaving the parents helped the children give her a surprise party. The parents served cookies and orange soda and the children entertained by reading stories they had written about the cadet teacher and themselves. They also told about the pictures they had made to illustrate their stories. Parents, children and teachers enjoyed the party. Mrs. Zenovich, their principal, found time to join the party too, for a little while. The children were very pleased to have her come to their party.

Now we have called upon the parents for help again. They are making the costumes needed for our Christmas program. The boys are to be "Jack-in-the-Boxes" and the girls will be "Dolls." Richard Atkins mother has taken charge of getting all the hats and ruffles made for the boys, and our room mother, Mrs. Doane, is having her older son decorate the boxes for us. Stephen's mother, Mrs. Doane, is also very busy contacting mothers for help on our Christmas party. The boys and girls really appreciate all that our parents are doing for them. Excitement is running high as more and more of our learning is related to the holiday season in one way or another. The children can hardly wait to take home their little ceramic snowmen. It was their first experience in ceramics.

CITY CONSIDERS GIVING FUNDS FOR HURT WORKER

The plight of an injured Daly City employee who must subsist only on his $40 a week state compensation may result in a new ordinance which would allow the city to supplement an injured employee's salary.

Councilman Monday night considered a letter from Daly City Employees association, asking that the city augment the income of John Haley, water department worker, who has not worked since October 5 when he was injured on a Westlake water project.

According to John Walsh, president of the employees, in previous cases the city has made up the difference between state compensation and the employee's actual salary in instances where injuries suffered while on duty prohibit the employee from working.

City Manager Howard Stites said there was no provision for such payments in the state code, and that for the city to do so would constitute an unlawful expenditure of public funds.

However, the manager said, the practice could be authorized by city ordinance. Stites said he would investigate Haley's case further.

BROADMOOR MAN IS FOUND NOT GUILTY OF DRUNK DRIVING

Robert Christian Ottoson, 703 White street, Broadmoor, was found not guilty in municipal court this Thursday on a charge of drunk driving in Daly City November 3.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci observed that Ottoson had been treated at an emergency hospital for a severely cut finger several hours before his arrest, and that injections of tetanus and penicillin could have caused his erratic driving.

In other action Thursday, Phillip Cobarruviaz, 64 Fourth street, San Francisco, pleaded guilty to drunk driving in Daly City on December 8 and was sentenced to 30 days in jail or $150 fine.

Edgar Dale, 3230 San Jose avenue, Daly City, forfeited $50 bail posted after he was arrested on a charge of being drunk in an auto December 9.

Jeff High Trustees OK B'moor Bid

"Available Funds Spent"

However on bid acceptance, architect fees of some $40,000 become due and payable. Immediately, the district finds all its available funds spent or definitely encumbered and embarking upon a project of such magnitude that unforseen expenses are a certainty."

In speaking of the proposed 20 per cent tax increase next year, the petition stated that a "sizeable portion" of any tax jump would necessarily go towards the double session program until Westmoor is completed.

The Schember-Miller prediction takes the high school district up to 1959-60 still breaking even with nothing extra for contingencies.

The statement then quotes a county prediction that the district will have a bonding capacity of $1,675,000 in 1959-60. According to the petition, expenses to be included in the bonding capacity include housing 3346 students and bussing 1000 students from the coastside.

Will $3,000,000 Avail?

"We ask what will $1,675,000 . . . or $2,000,000 . . . or $3,000,000 avail against a single elementary district which this same county survey estimates will spawn a graduation class of almost 1200 in 1961 . . . which may in 10 years send more than 9000 students to this high school district?"

Following reading of the petition, members of the audience questioned the board of Westmoor.

First person to join Mrs. Schember, Miller and Whitney was Nick Gust of Rockaway Beach. "Has the board looked into a less expensive school so that two could be built?" queried Gust.

Chairman Lyal Ingersoll repeated his statement of last week that first alternate of the Westmoor bid shows a cost of $11 square foot per child.

Next question, from Edward Rico, 572 Inverness drive, Westview, of comparative costs in bussing students and school construction, went unanswered by the board because they said figures were too difficult to compile.

Construction on Westmoor is expected to take at least 14 months, and it has been estimated that school will not open there until the Fall of 1957.

MAN TOPPLES OFF BAR STOOL, INJURED

A 48-year old Daly City cabinet worker was treated at Junipero Serra hospital Wednesday night for injuries suffered when he fell off a bar stool at a local tavern.

The injured man, Michael Sizitz, 56 Willits street, was seated at the tavern, when he suddenly toppled over, according to police.

The man was knocked unconscious but was revived by the time he arrived at the hospital in Daly City ambulance.

Attendants at the hospital said the man was bleeding from his ear, but otherwise appeared to have no serious injuries.

He left the hospital on his own power and said he was going to Permanente hospital for treatment, according to sources at the local hospital.

'TOYS FOR TOTS' CAMPAIGN GOES INTO FULL SWING

Marine Corps reserves "Toys for Tots" campaign in San Mateo county got into full swing this week with the first toys being received from Daly City and South San Francisco elementary schools.

Major Burt B. Sorensen, commanding officer of the 7th infantry battalion, who is directing the campaign for his unit and the 1st tank company, San Bruno, stated that over 2,000 toys have been collected from the two communities in the first day of the campaign. The major went on to say he is sure that the generosity and enthusiasm shown by the residents of the two communities will be reflected by the happiness on childrens faces that might otherwise be forgotten on Christmas morning.

The toys are being picked up by volunteer reservists in their spare time and are being delivered to the Adrian Ward Community Christmas bureau.

Explorer Scouts Attend December Planning Confab

More than one hundred Explorer Scouts and their leaders, all from the San Mateo County Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America, participated in the Annual Explorer Planning Conference held December 10 at Stanford University.

The purpose of this gathering was to plan the 1956 program of Explorer Activities in the San Mateo Council. This program will service young men in Scouting of the 14 to 17 year-old group.

Dr. E. Howard Brooks, assistant Director of Admissions for the University, delivered the principal address of the conference entitled "Your need for College Education and How You can Fulfill It."

Rebel L. Robertson, Scout Executive, also challenged the group to plan well and thoroughly for the coming year. He also included some statistics taken from a recent study in his talk.

Representatives from 22 Explorer Units took part in planning a full year of activity including events in social, vocational and service categories.

Serving as Explorer Conference Chairman was Thomas Splain, Post 157, Burlingame. Working with him on Committees were: Arrangements, John Crowley, Ship 111, Burlingame; Roger Howard, Post 157, Burlingame; and Len Vakoc, Crew 28, Burlingame; Promotion and Publicity, Bruce DeSele, Post 11, Burlingame; Outdoor Committee, Thomas Bragg, Crew 35, San Mateo; Vocational Committee, Bob Fisher, Post 157, Burlingame; Service Committee, Terry Anger, Post 84, Colma; and Social Committee, Bob Haller, Ship 76, South San Francisco.

Sam Marks, Director of Program for the San Mateo Council, and Frank McIntosh, District Executive, served as advisors for the the young men.

Cattle, horses, mules, sheep, goats and swine were raised by Russian settlers in the vicinity of Fort Ross.

Elementary School State Loan Vote Set March 27

Objections to the election were made last week by Howard Richardson, who claimed that the district tax rate would be upped "another 50 cents" at the time loan repayment is due.

Another objection to the action was heard Wednesday night when Superintendent H. Z. Weibel stated, "One of the absent members of the board believes that the district is going for too much."

Weibel continued that the absent member, not disclosed whether Henry Krause or Chairman Michael Callan, thought it was better to hold a second election, if necessary, than present one election with intangible benefits.

"Only If Necessary"

"But we don't have to borrow all the money," countered Appleton, we're only authorized to do so if necessary."

Appleton continued that although Richardson was afraid at last week's meeting the district would go "hogwild," it was out of the question as the board was composed of "responsible persons."

"We couldn't anyhow," commented Mrs. Mullen. "We need state authorization to use bonded indebtedness."

Business Manager David Shapiro entered the discussion. "Your trouble will be in getting the point over to the public," he declared.

Unknown Factors

"You're creating a situation where both the length of time and amount of money are unknown factors," he told the board.

Appleton and Mrs. Mullen both replied they were "willing to gamble."

"I have faith in the people," Appleton elaborated. "They want schools. I pay more than the average amount of taxes, and I don't object. . ."

He was interrupted by Shapiro, who challenged that election approval would not change the tax rate.

At this point Shapiro was interrupted by Weible who stated that the tax rate would eventually rise.

The matter was approved, and the superintendent was authorized to contact the district attorney to draw up advertisement for the approaching vote.

Other Action

In other action the board Wednesday night:

1. Denied a request by Speech Coordinator Alfea Belli that the board pay her expenses to an International Council for Exceptional Children conference in Minneapolis next April. Miss Belli has been asked to be one of two principal speakers at the convention. Trustees turned down her request on the grounds of established district policy outlawing payments of expenses for out-of-state conferences.

2. Heard Lewkowitz make a motion that the board offer token payments of 10 per cent of cost for improving storm drain and widening Market street in front of Colma school. The city of Daly City has asked the district to bear a third of the total cost. Lewkowitz' motion died for want of a second.

3. Tabled decision on establishment of a teacher panel to present grievances to the board.

4. Heard Robert Hale, Laguna Salada trustee and newly named inspector for Benjamin Franklin school, pledge "best service possible" on the job.

SCOUT TROOP 98 TO HOLD YULE PARTY

Boy Scout Troop 98 will hold its annual Christmas party at St. Francis Episcopal church on December 23, according to Robert B. Herrington, unit publicity chairman. The church is located at San Fernando way and Ocean avenue.

Dancing, refreshments and contests will be included in the event. Arrangements for the party are being handled by mothers of the scouts.

Library Group Revises Stand

cost of down payment for buying the building.

Commissioners also asked that a minimum annual city operating budget of $65,000 be assured before they would consider withdrawing.

The following figures on cost of operating the library independently and with the county were offered: If the Westlake branch were operated independently by the city annual cost would be $34,000, as compared with $18,000 cost to the city under the county agreement.

New Books

Another reason given by the commission for their action was that if the Westlake branch were operated cooperatively with the county, the city would not have to appropriate $15,000 to set up the initial book collection and the $5000 to equip the new branch. In addition, the commissioners letter said, if the branch were operated cooperatively with the county, there would be an additional saving of $5100 which would be necessary to replace the county collection of 1700 volumes.

In all, the commission said, the savings resulting from the joint city-county operation of the Westlake branch would be $25,000.

"It's apparent the commission has reversed itself," said Mayor Joseph Verducci. "Last Monday Mr. Carr said the majority opinion of the board favored withdrawing from the county program. Now they are unanimous in voting against withdrawing from the county's program. Certainly in view of this letter I would like to find out the pros and cons. We don't want to do anything that would impair our library services."

Calls Special Meet

Verducci called for a special meeting next Monday night at 8 p.m. to discuss with the commissioners their sudden change in policy.

Commenting on the commission's reference in their letter to savings which would be made possible by remaining with the county, City Manager Howard Stites said, "In the letter I didn't see any consideration given to the savings in taxes which we would realize by withdrawing from the county program."

At a meeting two weeks ago, Stites pointed out that the taxpayers of Daly City were paying 8½ cents per $100 valuation for county library services. This levy raises some $24,000 in county revenue annually in Daly City. Of this, Stites claims, only $10,000 is spent by the county to provide library services here.

Stites argument was that by withdrawing from the county program, Daly City residents would be relieved of the 8½ cent tax load. The municipal library tax, 8 cents per $100, could be raised four cents and citizens would still be paying 4½ cents less per $100 than they do for library facilites under the present joint arrangement.

In addition to the letter from commissioners, councilmen also received a lengthy cost analysis of library services from the county library Monday.

According to the letter, total cost of county library service to Daly City for the current fiscal year will be $18,000, while it would cost the city $52,000 to supply the same services. In concluding, the county librarian Virginia Ross said, "It would be most unfortunate if a zeal for economy were to result in curtailment of library services in Daly City."

Obituaries

Waldo Carter

Private services for Waldo Carter, who died Friday at Community hospital, were held Monday at W. C. Lasswell and company. Carter, 76, 730 Niantic street, was a retired printer.

He was a member of Typographical Union No. 21. Survivors include his wife, Lena; son, Russell; daughter, Mrs. Audrey Wehrly, and two grandchildren.

Interment was at Olivet Memorial park.

CALL COUNTY TB OFFICE FOR SEALS

Anthony Gaggero, Daly City Christmas Seal chairman, today urged all local residents who have not yet received their Christmas Seals in the mail to call the San Mateo County Tuberculosis and Health Association at DI 3-6274.

Gaggero explained that many calls have been coming in to Christmas Seal headquarters in San Mateo from people who were sent Seals but did not receive them. The TB Association will gladly send more Seals to these people, he said.

Gaggero pointed out that Christmas Seals are the only source of funds for the year-round tuberculosis prevention and control activities of the TB Association, including free chest X-rays, health education, rehabilitation, and research.

DC GOLFERS RANK IN ACE TOURNEY

Four Daly City swingers are in the run for the money and prizes at the SSF VFW hole-in-one contest underway at Treasure Island Golf Driving Range.

As of yesterday, Walt Litman, 121 Park Plaza, was in eighth spot with a shot eight inches from the cup.

Gus Johns, 124 Thiers street, ranks 11th with his ball resting 26 inches from the cup, while George Burke, 471 Irvington street, is 15th with a blast 29 inches from the hole, and Carl Huber, 101 Valley street, claims 16th position with a drive 30 inches away.

Al Tamborini of SSF seems a shoo-in to capture first place with a gem one inch away from the cup.

Jeff Diamond Club Invited To Tourney

Jefferson High has been named one of eight Bay Area schools to participate in the first annual South San Francisco Invitational Baseball tournament March 22, 23 and 24.

Sponsored by the SSF Junior Chamber of Commerce, the tourney will include three other Northern PAL baseball clubs, Capuchino, San Mateo and SSF.

Games will be played at Memorial park and El Camino park in South City.

Ed Martin is chairman of the sports event.

GATEWAY BOWLER HITS 709 SERIES

Ray Lynch of Gateway Chevrolet rang up 22 strikes in 30 frames Monday night to compile a 709 series, one of the best at the Brentwood Bowl this year.

Lynch fashioned his whopping series on games of 254, 202 and 253.

Lynch bowls for Gateway in the Cocktail league.

HOW DOES THIS GREEN BREAK?

How often you have asked your caddy or your partner this question: Is it a down hill putt? An uphill putt? Is the green fast or slow? Does it break left or right? Or is it just a nice easy straight 15 footer? Many high handicapped players find themselves so confused in trying to read a green that they must stroke the ball.

FAULT: Trying to be too exact on long putts. This usually results in good direction but very poor distance. Not enough attention is given to just how hard to hit the ball. Coming up far short of the hole or driving the ball way beyond the hole are the main reasons for so many three putt greens. Very few times will you ever find your putt has gone six or seven feet off line unless the green has an extreme slope to it. How many times though have you found yourself six or seven feet short or past the hole? This, more than any other putting fault, will add strokes to your game.

CORRECTION: Practice putting for distance. On long putts of 20 feet or so practice putting for an imaginary two foot circle around the hole. Keep the stroke smooth and above all follow thru. Get the ball up near the hole. Providing you have lined your putt up reasonably well all you have to concentrate on is stroking it the right distance. Correct distance more than anything else will elminate three putt greens. For short putts of five feet or so, be firm. I cannot emphasize this too strongly. Many a birdie has escaped by a weak stroke, and loose hands on the putter. Keep your hands firm on the putter, and follow thru.

REMEMBER: A putt rolling a foot past the hole has a far better chance than one that is six inches short. On downhill putts remember the ball will pick up speed. Pick a spot short of the hole, and stroke the putt just hard enough to reach that spot. On uphill putts pick a spot just beyond the hole. In this way you will allow for the slope of the green. Above all keep a firm grip on the putter, keep your head still, and follow through

Varsity Cagers, Dumped 3 Times, Are Hosts Tonight For Tough Sonoran Cowboy Five

A tough band of Sonoran cowboys will barnstorm into the Jefferson High school gym this Friday night to test the basketball mettle of the Indian's varsity and lightweight teams.

The Sonora five are fresh from capturing the Escalon Invitational tournament, while the Daly City varsity has fared less well, showing three losses in as many starts.

The Indians third practice setback came Wednesday at the hands of Balboa, 45-43, after the Mike Orlich five had built up substantial leads in the second and fourth quarters.

Nine-Point Lead

Trailing, 8-6, at the quarter, the Indians took a nine-point advantage in mid-second period, but the Bucs rallied to knot it up, 21-21, at the half.

At the close of the third quarter Larry Pottenger and Darrel Hutchenson quickened the pace and the Indians led, 35-29.

Orlich called on the reserves in the final period, and the Bucs won going away, although many observers thought it could have easily been Jeff's game had the regulars stayed in.

Pottenger led the home-town cause with 13 marks. Others hitting were Hutchenson, 10, Bob Comstock, 4, Ray Schultz, 5, Bill Curtis, 6, Ray Vuillemainroy, 2, Jim Honeywell, 3.

The local 30s won handily, 53-31, to register their second victory in three starts.

Hit 19 Charities

Nineteen charity tosses bucketed out of 34 tries contributed in large measure to the lop-sided win.

Coach Tony Giammona's lightweights, paced by Puzzy Firth, Gary Ryan and Al Dye, moved to a 22-10 half-time advantage and increased the margin to 37-20 at the end of the third period.

Firth led the scoring with 14, followed by Ryan and Dye, 11 each, Barry Haanan, 6, Dennis Marks, 5, George Rocchi and Jerry Simmons, 2 each.

Last Thursday's double-header with Lincoln found the Jeffs varsity and 30s on short ends of 57-39 and 48-41 scores, respectively.

"Hutch" Hits 20

The classy Lincoln club excelled at shooting, and rambled to an easy win, despite the 20-point output of Hutchenson. "Hutch" hit consistently on drive-in shots executed by a series of play patterns under the bucket.

Curtis picked up 6 points, Pottenger, 5, Comstock, Schultz, Vuillemainroy and Honeywell, 2 apiece.

The 30s bobbled a 22-17 halftime lead to drop the decision to the Links. Rocchi bucketed 10 points to lead the Indians, followed by Ryan, 9, Firth, 9, Haanan and Dye, 7 each.

In the Hayward Invitational tournament Friday and Saturday, the local varsity finished in a healthy third spot among the eight teams competing.

Top Menlo-Atherton

Opening against Menlo-Atherton Friday, the Indians squeezed out a 23-22 victory in the 20-minute contest, as Pottenger paved the way with 9 counters, followed by Hutchenson, 8, Vuillemainroy, 4, and Schultz, 2. The Indians led by a narrow margin all the way.

In the second elimination game Friday, the Jeffs were turned back by Hayward, 15-13. Loss of three regulars, Tom Cloutier, Delmar Scott and Honeywell, who had returned home for the junior-senior prom, hampered the Daly City attack.

Hayward went on to battle it out in the finals with Bishop O'Down, the latter winning.

Hutchenson's 6 points was tops for the Indians. Pottenger, Schultz and Curtis got 2 each, Vuillemainroy, 1.

Crush Piedmont

In the battle for third place Saturday night, the Indians crushed Piedmont, 51-40, in a regular 40-minute game.

Pottenger exploded for 15 points and on the strength of this game, was named to the all-tournament team, an honor which went to only five of the 80 players competing.

The Indians took a 25-22 halftime margin and were never headed, as Pottenger dunked nine in the second half.

Hutchenson and Vuillemainroy picked up 6, Schultz, 9, Comstock, 2, Cloutier, 5, Curtis and Honeywell, 4.

Starting line-up for this Friday night's contest will find some new faces at the opening tip, as Comstock will take over at forward for Pottenger, despite the latter's whiz playing at Hayward, and Vuillemainroy will replace Honeywell at guard. Rounding out the first club will be Hutchenson at forward, Schultz, center, and Curtis, guard.

Jefferson will be host Tuesday and Thursday of next week for evening games with Lincoln and Polytechnic, respectively.

250 Attend Annual Fall Block J Awards Dinner

More than 250 Jefferson High school athletes, their parents and faculty members were on hand Wednesday at the high school cafeteria for the annual fall Block J Awards Dinner.

Individual acclaim went to ace quarterback Jim Honeywell, who was given awards for making PAL first string, PAL player of the year, and for being declared Northern California back of the year.

Tom Cloutier was presented a silver football for being placed on the PAL second team, while Don Wiesner, Bob Grubb and Ron O'Rourke won medals for their honorable mention selection on the mythical football team.

John Mongan, principal, welcomed the guests, while Lowell Klaisner, Block J president, was master of ceremonies.

Principal speaker was Ben Ghillotti, freshman football coach at Stanford. Movies of this year's traditional Jeff-SSF football game were shown.

Block J letters went to the following:

Presenting the block letters were Ernie Ribera, Byron Van Alstyne, Tony Giammona and Joe McGrath.

STORY OF MOSSI, FIRST RUN IN THE RECORD, HITS WIRES

A feature story on the Cleveland Indian's fabulous relief pitcher Don Mossi that ran exclusively in the November 10 edition of THE RECORD, will be told to newspaper readers throughout the United States in the near future.

THE RECORD interviewed Mossi at his off-season place of employment, Villa Sanitarium, in Daly City, where he works as a maintenance man. The spread also included a picture of Mossi operating a power lawn mower.

Tuesday of this week a photographer from United Press journeyed to Joe Sarto's Villa Sanitarium to pictorially record Mossi laboring at odd jobs in the serenity of a sanitarium.

The photo, along with an accompanying story, is expected to be wired to all major newspapers in the country.

WESTLAKE CLUB BOOSTS LEAD IN DC BOWLING

Winning three games over Luce Meats, Westlake Homes took a firm lead in Daly City-Colma Bowling league Tuesday night at Brentwood as they stretched their won-loss record to 28-14.

One-time leader Vince & Fred dropped into a tie for second with San Pedro Lunch, as the latter swept a trio of wins from Brentwood Lodge. V & F won a pair of games from Starway Cocktails. The two second-place clubs have 26-16 marks.

Sharing fourth spot are Daly City Cleaners and Luce Meats, each with 22-20 records.

DC Cleaners took three games from Carlos Pizzeria.

Pacing Westlake Homes to their triple win was Dick Keefer's fat 578 series, compiled on games of 192, 214 and 172. Stan White aided the cause with a 540 trio, and top game of 207.

San Pedro's Al Wright was a big factor in their three-game sweep, rolling the evening's high series of 591 off games of 203, 197, 191. Frank Lister was right behind with a 568 and evening's high game of 230.

Vince & Fred's Babe DeLucca helped his club claim two wins with a 557 series.

Andrew Van Der Werff's 541 trio was instrumental in giving DC Cleaners their triple triumph.

Upset Marks Rec Hoop Play In Second Round

As the second round of play in the Invitational Basketball league wound up Saturday at Daly City community center, the A division was still dominated by St. Gabriel's, while Holy Angels upset the dope in the B division by beating the St. Gabriel's Greyhounds.

The St. Gabriel's Eagles came close to being upset in the A circuit, as they were hard-pressed to claim a 46-43 victory over St. Michael's.

The score changed hands repeatedly, with St. Michael's holding a 17-14 first-quarter edge, 27-26 at half-time, and 39-38 at the third quarter's end.

In the fourth period SG's Scott and Fassel started banging away at the bucket to put the Michaels' crew behind to stay. SG's Calcagno tallied 34 points for high honors, followed by SM's Reade with 25.

Another game that wasn't decided until the buzzer croaked was the OLPH-St. Stephen's clash, which found OLPH winning out, 31-30.

Results of other class A games: Laguna Salada defeated Broadmoor Hawks, 29-17. Henry Caldwell of LS was high scorer with 15; Broadmoor Comets whipped Holy Angels, 23-14, behind E. Banos' 14-point effort; Lincoln gained their first win with a 33-32 triumph over Brisbane. Scoring was divided among Reese, Eisner, D'Virgilio and Kitt.

In Class B play Holy Angels produced the first major upset, grinding out a 23-21 win over St. Gabriel's Greyhounds, winners of the invitational tournament.

HA led throughout the contest but never by more than three points.

It was the second straight win for the Angels five. MacDonald and Donati shared scoring honors for HA with seven apiece.

Colma showed promise in the B division with a 34-10 victory over Broadmoor Rebels. The Rebels led 5-3 at the quarter, but Colma caught fire and romped to a 17-6 half-time lead and was never in trouble after that. Sonny Stoller was high for the winners with 13 digits, followed by Buzzy Krohn, 11.

Other B results: Laguna Salada scored at will to bury OLPH No. 2, 376; OLPH No. 1 notched its second victory, defeating Broadmoor Dodgers, 36-9; St. Gabriel Raiders rallied to squeeze out a 17-16 win over Brisbane.

Don Ricci Captures Welter Boxing Title

Don Ricci, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Ricci, 160 Peoria, won the boxing championship in the 147-pound division in last Thursday's Twenty-First Annual Intramural Sports Carnival at University of California.

Ricci, only a freshman, beat out Paul Schmidt in the finals to win the crown.

His father is a former Daly City police commissioner.

VERN WALIGORA IS SJS GRID PROSPECT

Vern Waligora, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waligora, 145 San Diego avenue, Daly City, has been awarded the traditional Freshman Shirt for participation in freshmen football at San Jose State.

Vern, who played under Coach Visco Grgich at Riordan High school, alternated at left halfback for the Spartan freshmen and Coach Max Coley believes he has great potential and will hold down a varsity position in the future years.
